INTRODUCTION.

The Register Books of the Parish of Parkham, North Devon, when I became Rector in 1864, were kept in an iron chest in the old Vestry Room, and were rapidly perishing from damp. At that time the local interest felt in their preservation was so small that when I drew the attention of the Vestry to their condition, one of the leading farmers expressed the generally accepted opinion of his fellow parishioners, that it was a matter of no importance what became of them. My proposal to remove them to the Rectory was, however, approved, and there, during my Incumbency of some twenty-five years, they were kept, without further deterioration, and there they have been carefully preserved by my successors.

In 1873, I was fortunate in procuring their inspection, under the authority of the Historical Manuscripts' Commissioners, by the late Mr. H. T. Riley, whose interesting report will be found in the Appendix to the "Fourth Report of the Commissioners," pages 468-9. This report it was, I believe, which stimulated my friend and neighbour, the late Revd. John Ingle Dredge (who became Vicar of Buckland Brewer in 1874), to undertake the laborious work of transcription, not only of the Parkham Registers, but of as many as forty of the Parish Registers of North Devon, thus paving the way for their permanent preservation in printed form.

It is, therefore, very gratifying to me that his Parkham transcript has been accepted by the Devon and Cornwall Record Society as the first of their parochial printed Registers, and I hope that, in due time, this will be followed by the whole series of his beautifully executed transcripts.

THE HISTORY OF THE

REIGN OF

CHARLES THE FIRST
IN WHICH ARE CONTAINED
THE MOST IMPORTANT
EVENTS OF HIS REIGN
FROM THE YEAR 1625 TO 1649
BY JOHN RICHARDSON
OF THE MIDDLE TEMPLE
ESQ.

LONDON
Printed by J. Sturges, at the Sign of the Gun, in St. Dunstons Church-yard, near St. Dunstons Church, in the Year 1720.

It should be noted that neither Mr. Dredge's transcript, nor the Society's reproduction thereof, profess to be facsimiles of the original Register, but for practical use the form adopted by the Society is of much more value than any facsimile could be, seeing that neither the original nor a facsimile of it could be easily deciphered by most people.

The original Register fortunately still exists, and as long as it continues legible at all, it is, and must be, the ultimate authority; but to facilitate searches therein the printed copy will be found a most useful and reliable guide. Wherever any doubt was felt by Mr. Dredge as to the true reading of the original, he has inserted a note to that effect, and his notes, as printed from the transcript, together with the brief list appended to this Introduction, for which I am responsible, supply the few instances in which alternative readings may be admissible.

I am able also to supply a few additional entries which, to my somewhat younger eyes, appeared more legible than they did to those of my friend.

Variations frequently occur in the spelling of names, and it must not be forgotten that sometimes the original entry is obviously erroneous. The proper course, when any such error is discovered in a Register, is to add a note explaining or correcting the error, but on no account to alter or tamper with the original entry.

Mr. Dredge prefaces his transcript with some particulars of the Register itself, and perhaps a few additional notes may add to the interest of the Record, especially as a great part of the material for these notes was supplied to me by Mr. Dredge himself.

The oldest existing volume, made in 1599 by Nicholas Holman, of Buckland Brewer, a very capable scrivener, whose will bears date 16th December, 1641, begins with a transcript of the earlier Register.

In Burns' History of Parish Registers in England (Second Edition, John Russell Smith, London, 1862) a summary is given of the Parish Registers existing in 1830, from which it appears that out of a total number of 10,984 Registers, only 812 contained entries beginning in A.D. 1538, and of these only forty had any earlier entries. The Parkham Register is one of the forty.

The order under which the Parish Registers were established in 1538 was as follows:—

“Item.—That you and every Parson Vicar or Curate within this Diocese for every Church keep one Book or Register wherein he shall write the day and year of every Wedding Christening and Burial, made within your Parish for your time, and so every man succeeding you likewise, and also there insert every persons name that shall be wedded, christened and buried,” etc., page 18.

In default a fine was imposed, to be applied to the repairs of the Church. By a subsequent order, the fine was to be applied to the relief of the Poor, and in 1559 the fine was to be divided between the Church repair and the Poor relief. So far the Registers had been generally of paper, but in 1562 it was ordered that parchment should be used in future. This order was but slowly responded to, and was repeated forty years later; but meanwhile the Parkham Register had been transcribed in 1599, and as Mr. Riley testifies, “the writing in the earlier part of the volume is remarkable for its neatness and perfect legibility.”

From 1599 to 1628, John Risdon was Rector of Parkham. Almost the whole of the Marriage Register during those years is quite illegible, partly due, I think, to the erosion of the surface of the parchment by rubbing with pumice-stone to facilitate writing thereon and partly to the inferior quality of the ink used. It appears, however, that copies of the Register of Baptisms were sent to the Diocesan Registry at Exeter in 1621, and it is to be supposed that copies of the Marriage entries were sent at the same time; it is therefore possible that some of these missing entries may yet be recovered.

In 1628, Edmund Wood, alias Fountain, became Rector, and held the living (together with that of Parracombe, near Lynton, North Devon, to which he was instituted in 1626) until his death, 25th June, 1665. The Church Registers generally were discontinued from 1649 to 1660 (though an exception to this rule may be found in the neighbouring parish of Hartland, where no break occurs in the well-kept Register). Lay Registrars were appointed in 1653; the person so appointed being called the "Parish Register"—Births, not Baptisms, were recorded.

It is, of course, possible that Edmund Fountain having filled up Volume I in 1649 kept a private Register from that time to the day of his death; but, if so, that Register was lost before his successor, Francis Nation, came into possession in July, 1666, and began the volume now known as Volume II.

It will be observed that Edmund Wood, alias Fountain, was in undisturbed possession of two benefices all through the Commonwealth period, being, in this respect, more fortunate than many of his clerical brethren, not excepting Joseph Hall, Bishop of Exeter and Norwich.

There is in the British Museum a manuscript, thus described:—Lansdown MS., No. 459. "A Register of all the Church Livings in Devon (and other counties), with an account of their annual Income. The names of the Patrons and Incumbents, and the particular character of many of the latter—supposed to have been made about the year 1654, or more probably 1650, for the use of the Commissioners appointed in the Act for ejecting scandalous, ignorant, and insufficient ministers." The document is in a tabular form and extends to thirteen columns. In the case of Parkham, entries are made in three of these columns:—

1. Rectory—Presentation value of it—
"£130 os. od."
2. Incumbent—
"Edm. Fountaine, a Constant preaching Minister."
3. Patron—
"John Downe, Clerk."

The Patron of Parkham here named, John Downe, B.D., was a very learned divine, sometime Fellow of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, contemporary and friend of Joseph Hall, Bishop of Exeter, by whom he was spoken of as "one of the brightest starres of our West," a nephew of Bishop Jewell—"he took" (says Dr. Hakewill) "that Jewell of Prelates, as his pattern for imitation." He died in 1631, Rector of Instow, and several treatises by him were published by his friend, Dr. Hakewill (Rector of Heanton Punchardon and Archdeacon of Surrey) in 1633.

In the south wall of the Church of Instow, North Devon, is erected a great monument in memory of Mr. Downe, inscribed as follows:—

“An Epitaph consecrated to the Memory of Mr. John “Downe, B.D., the late learned and reverend Pastor of this “Church.

“Here lie the Ashes of that Lamp divine,
“Which here with zeal did burn with Knowledge shine
“Such Beams his Life and Learning did display
“As changed our Twilight to a perfect Day—
“For which great Light, this Orb too low by far,
“He's plac'd in Heav'n, and there shines as a Star.”

Edmund Fountaine, shortly after his admission to Parkham, married on the 30th June, 1628, Mary (sometimes written Maria), daughter of John Downe, and upon Fountain's death, in 1665, she (Maria Fountain) nominated as his successor at Parracombe, John Newell, Bachelor of Theology.

Whether Edmund Fountaine was at all indebted for his exemption from persecution, during the Commonwealth period, to the influence of John Fountaine (1600—1671), of whom particulars may be found in the Dict. Nat. Biog., vol. xx, page 76, who may have been Edmund's brother, is uncertain.

As to the value of the living at that time, the Rate Book supplied some information, and of this I can give a copy for the year 1640:—

Parkham. A Rate made for the Poor of the Parish aforesaid

Reed, Overseers.

1631-2. Rates.—The Overseers' receipts for the year 1631—1632, the earliest existing record, amounted to £29 3s. 4d. The Rector, Ed. Fountain, contributing thereto 34s.

It may be noted that, though there is a break in the Register from 1649 to 1666, there are a few memorial stones preserved in the Church, recording the burials of persons therein during that period, and among them we find, in the south aisle, the stone which covered the remains of Edmund Fountain, bearing the following inscription:—

“Depositum viri memoratu . . .
 “digni Edmondi Fontaine hujus
 “ecclesiæ Parkhamensis Rectoris nuperi
 “vigilantis eruditi nec minus Sancti

 “migravit Jun. 25 Anno Dñi 1665.
 “Tu Christe unica spes mihi
 “Cui das fontem aquæ salientis
 “in vitam æternam.”

We turn now to the Rector responsible for the whole of Volume II of the Registers, Francis Nation, M.A., of whom we have an interesting record in Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, 1714 fo., p. 320, and who is also favourably spoken of by Edmund Calamy in his Remarks upon Dr. Walker's Work, published 1719, pages 75 and 79.

Walker says—"He was born at Bishops-Liddyard in the County of Somerset. Educated at Baliol College in Oxford and upon the breaking out of the wars became chaplain to Sir John and Sir Edward Stawell. He had likewise, for some time, a military command in the Army, and by some misfortune or other, being taken prisoner, he was asked whether he were not a Major? to which he presently returned this bold answer:—

"'Major sum quam cui possit Fortuna Nocere' [Ovid Met., VI, 195].

"After he had been harassed and driven from place to place he went at length into Wales, where he was seized, but found means to get off again. At length he retired into the county of Devon, and settled for some time at Atherington, where he became tutor to several gentlemen's sons of the best note in those parts. In the year 1655 (Sir John Maclean says 1652) he got the living of Inwardleigh, which, with a great deal of trouble, he kept about two years, and then being dispossessed of it, went into Cornwall, where he got the small vicarage of Lawannack, which he was permitted to keep until the Restoration, when he returned to Inwardleigh, and towards the latter end (thirty-six years nevertheless) of his life had the rectory of Parkham, in the same county, bestowed on him, where he continued to preach for some time after he had lost his sight. He was an excellent scholar, and retained to the very last, what he had learned in his younger days, as fresh in his memory as if he had just then come from the University. He was also a man of great piety and died in the eighty-second year of his age."

The pedigree of Nation is given by Sir John Maclean in his History of Trigg Minor, page 266, and when I last heard from Sir John in 1875 he was endeavouring to trace the descent of an Exeter family of the same name from Francis Nation. Mr. Nation was buried at Parkham, 19th May, 1702, but, I believe (after diligent search made in vain) that no stone marked the place of his burial. His will, dated 25th May, 1669, was proved at Exeter, 12th June, 1702.

The Register was well kept by Mr. Nation. Notices of affidavits as to burials without linen, and in woollen only, appear from and after 1678.

Duplicate Registers of Burials from 1681 to 1693, signed by the Rector, are preserved in the Overseers' Book, written on paper. These also have reference to affidavits as to burial according to the Act. In some cases, no affidavits being brought to the Rector that the Act has been conformed to, certificates to that effect were sent by him to the Overseers.

After the death of Francis Nation the Rectory was vacant for about a year, the right to present being disputed. The then estimated value of the benefice being £250. From 1703 to 1740 the Register was kept by William Kingford, the Rector, who was presented by the executrices to Robert Kingford, deceased, who claimed the right to present under a grant from Arthur Bassett, the original patron; the claim of Gyles Risdon, an infant, having failed. The original papers relating to this trial of the right of patronage are among the Portledge Manuscripts. To William Kingford the parish of Parkham is indebted for the greater part of the very fine Communion Plate, some of which bears his crest—a spread eagle, with a rose in its beak—and his coat of arms, with inscription:—"Deo et ecclesiæ Parkhamensi Gulielmus Kingford, Rector, D.D.D., M.D.C.C.XXXI."

To Kingford succeeded Humphrey Bawden, whose two daughters married neighbours, and some of their descendants are still located in Bideford, Mr. Caleb Squire being one of them.

From 1776 to 1780 Thomas Swindale was Rector, and from his time to the present day, Parkham has been favoured with one of the choicest peals of six bells in the county of Devon. On this point I cannot do better than quote from a letter of Mr. Joshua Squire (grandson of Mr. Humphrey Bawden), dated 31st October, 1874. Mr. Squire says:—

"As related to me by my Father, Mr. Bawden would not consent to recasting the 4 fine Old Bells which were in Parkham Tower, during his lifetime. The Rev^d T. Swindale was his successor in the Rectory and in the year 1778 the Bells were recast. Mess^{rs} William Pickard and Edward George were then Churchwardens who desired my Father to look on in their

"behalf. The Bells were cast in the North-west part of the Churchyard at Parkham. The Founders were John, Christopher, and William Pennington, Brothers, & did all the work themselves, being Smiths & Carpenters as well as Founders. The Rev. T. Swindle gave the Timber for the Frame work, &c. from the Parsonage wood. The Tenor Bell weighs about 9 cwt., the remaining 5 weigh about 21 cwt. making in all near 30 cwt., this is so near as I can remember. My father was present at the time the Bells were cast, saw the Old knocked to pieces and put into the Furnace and remained during the process of fusion & saw the Run which was good, producing 6 Maiden Bells in Unison without chip or clip."

(The old bells weighed about 38 cwt., as was supposed in 1745).

The tenor bell bears the inscription:—

"Thomas Swindle,
"I call the Quick to Church
"The dead to Grave."

No. 2.—"J. P., C. P., W. P., 1778."*

John was the bell-founder, Christopher the carpenter, William the blacksmith. For several generations the craft was pursued by the family.

No. 3.—"Edward George, W^m Pickard, C[hurch] W[ardens].
"J. P. C. P."

The other three bells were not marked. The cost of re-casting was £65, part of the cost being defrayed by the metal reserved (several cwt.).

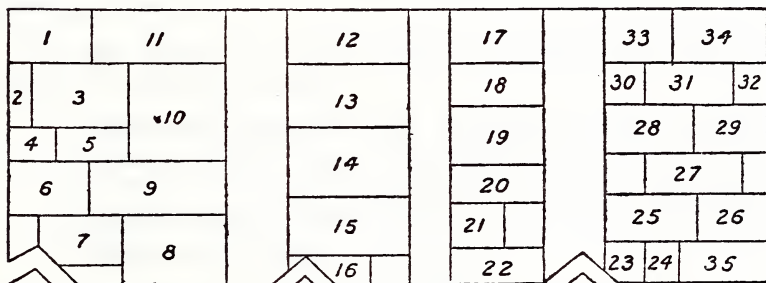

These same bells were re-hung by Taylor, of Loughborough, in 1887; the cost being met by voluntary contributions.

The Pennington family cast the bells at Langtree, Little Torrington and Black Torrington.

* That is John, Christopher, and William Pennington, of Stoke Climsland.

Nearly all the entries in the Register relating to the families of the Rectors referred to in this Introduction, and also those relating to the families of Beare, of Ashe; the Botelers, of Sedborough and of Stone; the Coffins, of Portledge and of Goldsworthy; Vignes, of Stone; Gay, of Goldsworthy Rysdon, of Bableigh; and Giffard, of Halsbury will be found incorporated in the pedigrees of the several families recorded in the Visitations of Devon and Cornwall, edited, with additions, by Lieut.-Col. Vivian, and in the History of Trigg Minor, by Sir John Maclean.

Some of the stones, hereunder reported on, supply the only Church records relating to the parties whose names they bear:—

Most of the inscriptions were legible in 1875. No. 7 is a fragment only. No. 26 (Edmund Fountaine, Rector) was found on the line between Nos. 14 and 15. No. 27 is described by Rogers in his Sepulchral Effigies in Devon, page 316. No. 9 is inscribed on both sides. The side now uppermost bears the following inscription:—

“Here lyethe the bodye of Katherine Moncke, Wydowe, some“tymes the wyfe of Thomas Moncke of Pudderydge, Esquire, who “died the 2 daye of Novembre in the yeare of our Lord God
“1595. Whose soule God receave.”

This lady was the third wife of Thomas Moncke, grandfather of General Moncke, and was herself, it appears, relict of Christopher Savory, of Totnes.

On the reverse of the slab (which was uppermost when I found it) is inscribed as follows:—

“Here lyeth interred the body of Martha the Wife of Roger “Giffard of Halsbury, Gent., who departed this life the 2nd day
“of October in the year of our Lord 1685. As also of Bridgett
“daughter of the said Roger & Martha who died the 28th of Jan^y
“in the year preceding.

“Memor esto brevis.

“Here lyeth also buried the body of Dorothy the 2nd wife of
“the aforesaid Roger Giffard of Halsbury in this Parish, Gent.,
“who departed this life the two and twentieth day of March in
“the year of our Lord God 1712.”

The stone, which is of poor quality, was badly broken and was preserved with difficulty.

No. 20 bears a date which does not appear in the Register:—

“Here lyeth in hope of a joyful resurrection interred the body
“of Elizabeth second daughter unto Bartholomew Mayer of Barn-
“staple, Gent., and wife unto Captayne William Shapley who in
“some time of his life bare the Office of a Mayor of the towne
“of Barnstaple. She departed this life the 26th day of May in
“the year of our Lord God 1654.

"Here lyeth also the body of John Shapley of this Parish,
 "Gent." who departed this life the 22nd day of . . . 1684.
 "Atatis suæ 7."

No. 21 is inscribed:—

"I lived to God and by his ayde
 "Fulfilled my course and died a Mayde."

"August 1660."

No. 12 is to the memory of Robert Honnacott, Yeoman, of Parkham, buried 8th March, 1664, atatis suæ 45. (Eight lines of verse follow).

No. 35 commemorates Robert Honnacott, of Bocombe, in the Parish of Parkham, who was buried 15th February, 1664, died aged 77. (Eight lines of panegyric).

He left 20s. a year for the poor, which was paid for over two hundred years, but being then withheld was dropped.

The following entries in Volume I of the Parkham Register do not appear in Mr. Dredge's transcript, but they were extracted by me many years ago, and may be relied upon as correct to the best of my belief.

Marriages.

1599. . . . and Honor Lee.
 . . . Cleverdon & Jone Collaford.
 Thomas Palmer & Elizabeth Steart.
 Francis (or Thomas) Lee & Honor Ebbet (or Boteler).
 William Adam & Elizabeth Neale.
 *Matthew Knill & Alice Galsworthy.
 1600. . . . & Grace Juell.

* Matthew Knill was one of the Overseers in 1640. He probably occupied the house near the Churchyard gate known as "The New Inn," pulled down about 1888, when a handsomely carved oak beam, bearing the initials "M.K." was discovered on the removal of the kitchen chimney-piece.

PARKHAM FAMILIES.

NOTES FROM ALWINGTON PARISH REGISTERS.

Marriages.

The 16th day of November 1654.

Henry Peane sonne of John Peane of the pⁱsh of Parkham and Honour Atwill daug. of Edward Atwill of the Towne of Biddeford deceased were married the day and year abovesaid.

John Colle son of Edw. Colle of Parkham & Margery Glendon daug.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a review of the literature on the topic. It is found that there is a general consensus that the use of the word "the" is a common feature of English. However, there is a lack of agreement on the exact meaning of the word. Some scholars argue that it is a marker of definiteness, while others argue that it is a marker of specificity. The paper then goes on to discuss the use of the word "the" in different contexts. It is found that the word is used more frequently in formal contexts than in informal contexts. It is also found that the word is used more frequently in written contexts than in spoken contexts. The paper concludes by suggesting that the use of the word "the" is a complex phenomenon that requires further research.

Candlestick formed of the six old Clappers (when the Parkham bells were rehung in 1887), for use in the Ringing Chamber.

"When swung in darkness up aloft,
Our lively touches charmed of yore;
In hoary age, our bonnets doffed,
We cheer with light the ringing floor.
So ring life's changes here that ye,
Earth's darkness past, Heaven's light may see."

Darkham.

A point (.) after the Surname means that the name does not occur twice in the original, but is repeated in this work for the sake of uniformity.

A comma (,) after the Surname means that the name occurs twice, but is placed before Christian name for the same reason.

1. The first part of the book is devoted to a general introduction to the subject of the history of the English language. It discusses the various factors which have influenced the development of the language, such as contact with other languages, internal changes, and the influence of social and cultural factors. It also touches upon the classification of languages and the relationship between the English language and its Germanic roots.

2. The second part of the book is a detailed account of the historical development of the English language from its earliest forms to the present day. It traces the lineage of the language from Old English through Middle English and Modern English, highlighting the major changes in grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation. It also discusses the influence of foreign languages, particularly French and Latin, on the English lexicon.

3. The third part of the book is a study of the English language in its various dialects and registers. It examines the differences between regional dialects and the standard language, and discusses the factors which contribute to the formation of new dialects. It also looks at the relationship between the spoken and written language, and the influence of social class and education on language use.

4. The fourth part of the book is a survey of the current state of the English language and its future prospects. It discusses the impact of modern technology and communication on the language, and the role of the English language in the global context. It also touches upon the importance of the study of the history of the English language for a deeper understanding of the language itself.

1. The first thing to do is to choose a good site for your plants. The site should be sunny and well-drained. It should also be protected from strong winds.

2. Next, you need to choose the right plants for your site. Consider the soil type, the amount of sunlight, and the amount of water you can provide.

3. Once you have chosen your site and plants, it's time to plant them. Dig a hole that is deep enough to hold the plant's roots. Place the plant in the hole and fill it with soil.

4. After you have planted your plants, you need to water them. Water them regularly, but don't overwater them. They need enough water to grow, but not too much.

5. Finally, you need to take care of your plants. Check them regularly for pests and diseases. If you find any, take action immediately. Also, make sure they get enough sunlight and water.

6. By following these steps, you can ensure that your plants grow well and thrive. Remember, planting is a long-term investment, so take your time and do it right.

- Bassett, Arthur, xviii.

The first of these is the fact that the world is not a uniform whole, but is divided into many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture. The second fact is that the world is not a static whole, but is constantly changing. The physical conditions of the world are constantly changing, and the human conditions of the world are constantly changing. The third fact is that the world is not a single whole, but is composed of many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture. The fourth fact is that the world is not a single whole, but is composed of many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture. The fifth fact is that the world is not a single whole, but is composed of many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture. The sixth fact is that the world is not a single whole, but is composed of many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture. The seventh fact is that the world is not a single whole, but is composed of many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture. The eighth fact is that the world is not a single whole, but is composed of many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture. The ninth fact is that the world is not a single whole, but is composed of many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture. The tenth fact is that the world is not a single whole, but is composed of many different parts, each of which has its own peculiar characteristics. These characteristics are determined by the physical conditions of the place, such as its climate, soil, and position. They are also determined by the human conditions of the place, such as its population, its history, and its culture.
